MAISON MONTESPAN

Maison Montespan is not a hotel. It's a private house with five separate suites, all different, spread over four floors and serviced by a lift. The whole building has been carefully and lovingly furnished by its French owner, and an art curator is constantly hand-picking unique pieces that are bound to arouse the attention of any connoisseurs. You can even meet with the artists during your stay.

The Maison boasts an outstanding rooftop terrace where you can lie back and relax in the sunshine or treat your friends to an intimate party. If you don't fancy cooking, leave things to award-winning mixologist Christophe Davoine and former Peninsula chef Jean-Edern Hustel, who will ensure you leave with lasting memories of their delicious concoctions.

Should you like the idea of exploring the local residential neighbourhood, or venturing further afield to sample the French capital's shopping and cultural delights, your private butler, Monsieur Baptiste, and Maitresse de Maison, Madame Ellyn, would be delighted to organise a personalised guided tour to show you the Paris they both know and love. Prepare yourself for plenty of surprises...

Lastly, the underground pool with its powerful yet adjustable counter-current is ideal for swimming addicts. Its floor can be lifted up to create a yoga pad or a comfortable home cinema, where you can watch your favourite movie or choose from the house's film library.

Staying with us is a truly unique experience. Make yourself at home; we'll take care of the rest. Get ready for an intimate, unique stay and a host of memories to share.

That's our house's "raison d'être"!
